Our Community Listens is a three-day communications skills class offering a transformation learning experience to strengthen relationships, align teams, and build stronger communities.

You will:

Examine your behavioral tendencies and how to better communicate with others

Explore how the Communication Cycle forms the foundation of your interpersonal communication

Learn how to listen to connect with others

Appreciate the impact your nonverbal behavior has on your verbal communication

Develop a more effective way to handle confrontation

See and celebrate the good in others

The way we teach is unique. Our facilitators teach from experience as opposed to only delivering information. We have intentional curriculum that continuously loops through...

Enlightenment (personal insights)

Equipping (practical tools), and

Empowerment (application and sustainment)

We will start every day at 8:30am and end each day by 4:30pm local time. The modules build on each other. It is imperative that you attend each day in its entirety.
